FOREWORD

Malcolm Storer's Numismatics of Massachusetts first appeared almost 60 years ago, as Volume 76 of the Collections of the Massachusetts Historical Society. Sponsor, subject matter, and compiler made an ideal trio at initial publication in 1923: the Society already owned a respectable numismatic collection; under Storer as its curator of coins and medals, its Massachusetts holdings increased enormously; and he was the obvious choice to produce such a volume, being also curator of the collection at the Boston Medical Library, honorary keeper of that at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, and secretary of the Boston Numismatic Society. He was thus (as he good-naturedly described himself) the "Pooh-Bah" of numismatics in Boston.

As his Preface makes clear, Storer's was a pioneering effort, the "first attempt to collate" the medals of Massachusetts "that has been made." A year after his work appeared, the report of the Council of the Massachusetts Historical Society noted of Storer that his "position as an expert on the subject" was "beyond question," that he had been "successful in building up the coin and medal collections of the Society," and that the volume he produced, "unique in subject and in format," was "already recognized as a standard check-list of permanent value and an example to be followed in the other states of the Union." In the interval that ensued, others apparently agreed: Storer's compilation enjoyed so steady a sale that it went out of print some 15 years ago. Its republication by Quarterman Publications, Inc., of Lawrence, Massachusetts, is due in large part to the initiative of Quarterman's president, Alfred D. Hoch, whose efforts the Massachusetts Historical Society has applauded and abetted. The appearance in facsimile form of Malcolm Storer's Numismatics of Massachusetts is at once a publishing event of no little importance and cause for rejoicing among numismatic collectors, dealers, and institutions.

Who was Malcolm Storer?

He was of the ninth generation in direct descent from the first of that family name, who arrived at Boston from England sometime in the 1630s. He was himself a physician (hence the initials "M.D." that follow his name on the title page of this volume), like his grandfather, David Humphreys Storer (1804-1891), and father, Horatio Robinson Storer (1830-1922), before him. Grandfather Storer was a Bowdoin undergraduate who received his medical degree from Harvard; his son and grandson each won Harvard A.B. and M.D. degrees. Malcolm Storer (1862-1935) was the youngest of the four children of Horatio Robinson Storer and his first wife, Emily Elvira Gilmore Storer, and followed his father into medical practice as a gynecologist in Boston. His father's physical breakdown at age 42 following blood poisoning contracted in the course of a surgical operation led to his withdrawal from active practice and ultimate removal to Newport, Rhode Island. There began the elder Storer's consuming interest in numismatics, a field in which he amassed an outstanding collection of medals bearing upon medicine. From that parent, apparently, came Malcolm Storer's own lifelong passion for numismatics. It led to his election as a Resident Member of the Massachusetts Historical Society in June 1912 at age 50, to his choice less than a year later as the Society's curator of coins and medals (a post he held until death), and, after a decade of furious collecting of Massachusetts pieces for that organization, to the publication of Numismatics of Massachusetts in 1923, with Storer virtually predestined as its compiler.

What sort of volume did Malcolm Storer produce?

It was—and remains—a flawed gem. Despite its title, its contents did not conform to the dictionary definition of numismatics as comprehending coins, tokens, medals, paper money, and similar objects; instead, Storer limited his work primarily to describing medals and listing a few badges, omitting entirely any metallic or paper coinage. His catalog was primarily of Massachusetts medals in the Massachusetts Historical Society, with descriptions, "taken from many sources," of other pieces elsewhere. His arrangement of contents was bipartite: general medals (and store cards) in one listing, personal medals in another. "This system," he warned users, "seems to be more suitable to a catalogue not compiled primarily for experts."

That was the key. Numismatics of Massachusetts was designed for easy utility at the hands of non-experts. Its errors remain, bedeviling non-expert and expert alike. David E. Schenkman, of Bryans Road, Maryland, himself a numismatist, has pointed out some of them: a number of items, including some (which Storer apparently saw) in the Massachusetts Historical Society, are listed without size; Nos. 643 and 764 are incorrectly listed as to size, the correct dimensions of each being 27 mm; Nos. 569 and 577 are listed with a 7 mm size difference despite having the same obverse die; Nos. 1081 and 1081a, listed as of Massachusetts origin, are actually New Jersey pieces; and No. 1137 is likely a ghost and probably does not exist in the form herein described. Presumably Storer's descriptions contain other errors as well.

So the difficulties remain embedded in the pages ahead, including the "full index" that Storer provided. Its references are of course to entry numbers, not page numbers, an elementary distinction he failed to note and which at least once trapped even him (Storer's own name appears in his index with one number—99—yet is found in both ENTRY No. 99 on page 17 and in entry No. 793 on PAGE 99!). Readers will seek without finding it in entry No. 952 the name of his father, Horatio Robinson Storer. Presumably Storer's index contains other errors as well.

But the gemlike facets of Malcolm Storer's Numismatics of Massachusetts remain, however flawed. The first of its kind, it was the work of an indefatigable collector and enthusiast, and, above all, it was useful. Thanks to its renewed lease on life, it will continue to be useful to another generation of numismatic collectors, dealers, and institutions. If, as Mr. Schenkman observes, its residual flaws encourage another numismatist to supersede Storer's pioneering effort with a better one, this facsimile reprint will "provide a good foundation" for such an effort.

PREFACE

While this list of the medals of Massachusetts is of necessity far from complete, it represents what is, as far as I know, the first attempt to collate them that has been made. Primarily it is a catalogue of the pieces in the collection of the Massachusetts Historical Society, although I have included descriptions of other pieces, taken from many sources. These descriptions of pieces not in the collection are, of course, in many cases incomplete and incorrect. In old catalogues I have sometimes found what was probably the same piece described in half a dozen different ways.

It will be noted that I have made no attempt to subdivide the pieces into store cards, hard-times tokens, medals, etc., as do most numismatists, which only leads to endless confusion; but have grouped everything, except the personal medals, under the respective towns or cities, in the first place alphabetically and then, in the case of the dated pieces, chronologically. This system seems to be more suitable to a catalogue not compiled primarily for experts. A full index will guide those who consult the list.

A few words about the collection of the Society may be of interest. Since its foundation medals have been presented to it from time to time, but in 1905 William Sumner Appleton left it his remarkable collection of Americana, numbering 3456 pieces, among them a very large number of excessively rare specimens. The Appleton collection is especially rich in medals of Washington, Franklin, Lafayette, and colonial medals. Mr. Appleton's activity in numismatics is attested by the many valuable papers he read before the Society on the subject. In 1914 Mr. Henry Adams presented to the Society his collection of, excluding duplicates, some 5400 coins of foreign countries, ancient and modern, including a large number of gold and silver coins. When I became a member of the Society in 1912 it seemed to me that, while gifts of coins of any kind were highly welcome, the Society should specialize in the numismatics of Massachusetts. I found that at that time it had some hundred Massachusetts pieces. It now has over two thousand, many of them, to be sure, of rather a trivial nature. I have however felt that everything should be included, as their very triviality makes many pieces ephemeral, and things that now seem of little importance may in the future have their interest. Lest the list be too bulky I have omitted describing badges, a list of which will be found in the volume, except in a few instances where the piece has seemed to be of historical interest.

I wish to express my thanks to Mr. H. A. Gray and Mr. F. H. Shumway, who have been indefatigable in their search for specimens, and to Mr. C. H. Stearns, whose unrivalled knowledge of the Massachusetts colonial coinage has been of great assistance. I am under especial obligations to Mr. Howland Wood, Curator of the American Numismatic Society, for descriptions of many pieces in the cabinet of that Society, and to Mr. William Poillon of New York for valuable aid in the matter of Chapter Pennies. Mr. George R. Russell, late of the Ordnance Department, has been of help in arranging the medals of the Massachusetts Volunteer Militia. Thanks are also due to the many societies and the selectmen of various towns who have presented us with their medals and also to the many manufacturers of medals and badges who have cooperated, notably the Whitehead-Hoag Company of Newark, who have been most obliging in letting me see what work they have done, and have also presented a number of their medals to the Society. So little work has been done towards collating the minor medals of the United States that a general effort to catalogue them would be of great value. This could in no way be better done than under the auspices of Historical Societies in the various states. I can only hope that this work will incite other societies to undertake the task in other states, so that when eventually a corpus nummorum of the United States is compiled there will be a mass of material upon which to work.

In conclusion let me say that the preparation of this list would have been a hopeless task without the sympathetic interest of Mr. Worthington Chauncey Ford, whose assistance in the revision of manuscript has been invaluable.
